Clean up on your photography skills and get ready to go blossom hunting.

The 2019 Vancouver Cherry Blossom Festival is just around the corner, along with their annual contest – the BC Blossom Photo Watch.

Starting tomorrow, cherry blossom lovers across British Columbia are invited to capture their best photos and share them on Twitter, Facebook, or Instagram.

On May 3, 2019, a panel of judges will select their favourite photo and announce a winner and runner-up.

The grand prize winner will take home a brand new iPad. The runner-up will take home a Fujifilm printer.

Neil McLeod, last year's contest runner-up.

To enter, simply post your best photos on Twitter, Facebook, or Instagram with the hashtags: #vancherryblossomfest and #TELUSPureFibre.

Participants can enter as many photos as they'd like, however, each post must have both hashtags, otherwise they won't count.

Photos also require a location tag and must be taken within British Columbia.

Submissions for the contest will begin on April 4, 2019, and entries must be submitted no later than April 28, 2019, at 11:59 pm.

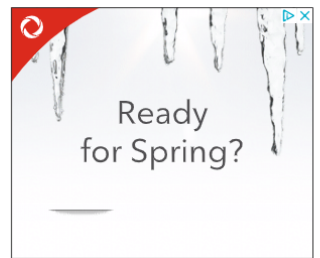

A full set of official rules can be found on the Vancouver Cherry Blossom Festival website.
