

Daily Hive Community Partnership, Food Events, Food, News

Cherry Blossom Festival changes date for 'The Big Picnic' due to poor weather

Vincent Plana
Apr 12, 2019 8:45 am 831

@cherryblossomfestvvr:Instagram

The Vancouver Cherry Blossom Festival (VCBF) has announced that they've changed the date of one of their events.

Due to poor expected weather conditions, organizers have shifted the date of the VCBF's Big Picnic.

cherryblossomf...
2,429 followers
View Profile

Instagram post from cherryblossomfestvvr: A fun day for everyone under the Cherry Blossoms! #vancouverisawesome #vcfb #nostrangers #vancherryblossomfest

1,198 Likes

48 likes

Add a comment...

The open-air event is one of the city's largest outdoor picnic celebrations and was originally scheduled to take place on Saturday, April 13.

See also

- An Abbotsford farm is hosting an adults-only moonlight Easter egg hunt this weekend
- The highly-anticipated Abbotsford Tulip Festival announces early opening
- Honda Celebration of Light 2019 participating countries announced

With Saturday's forecast calling for a 60% chance of showers, organizers have decided to change the date of the event to the next day.

The Big Picnic is an afternoon event that calls Vancouverites and visitors to the Queen Elizabeth Park.

Attendees are invited to bring their own food, although they'll also have access to some of the city's most popular food trucks on-site as well.

cherryblossomfestvvr
Queen Elizabeth Park, British Columbia
View Profile

Instagram post from cherryblossomfestvvr: Queen Elizabeth Park, British Columbia

99 likes

Add a comment...

cherryblossomfestvvr
Queen Elizabeth Park, British Columbia
View Profile

Instagram post from cherryblossomfestvvr: Queen Elizabeth Park, British Columbia

106 likes

Add a comment...

Activities also include face-painting, meditation, games, and performances by local artists. Anyone participating is encouraged to bring a picnic mat, a picnic basket, and their preferred method of seating.

The Big Picnic 2019 will now take place on Sunday, April 14, 2019.

The Big Picnic 2019

When: Sunday, April 14, 2019

Time: 12 to 3 pm

Where: Queen Elizabeth Park – West 53rd Avenue and Cambie, Vancouver

Daily Hive is a proud media sponsor of the Vancouver Cherry Blossom Festival

Proactive and preventative healthcare for you and your family

Get Started

VANCOUVER WEST VAN CALGARY EDMONTON

TRENDING

- White Spot is giving out FREE Beyond Burgers in Vancouver on Monday
- This is what 'affordable' looks like across Canada's housing market
- Fly around the world from Vancouver for just under $1,560 this summer
- North America's largest life-size moving dinosaur exhibit is coming to Vancouver
- This is what Disney's huge new streaming service will look like

LATEST

- BC expands bursaries in hopes of attracting more early childhood educators
- These were the best Canadian fashion moments of the week
- Jet Airways leaves passengers stranded after cancelling all international flights
- Don Cherry doesn't think Canucks' Petterson deserves Rookie of the Year
- Playland tops Disneyland in new amusement park ranking